

January 4th, 2009

It's not that I won't answer you when your heart's cry is before Me on which avenue to take and which door to go through and it's not that I don't take great delight in coming with infinite detail to describe to you the most successful path and I say to those who have ears to hear, in front of you today are those paths that can be termed good and those that can be termed acceptable but there is one that is in Him that I have prescribed for you that is that perfect place of provision in life, provision in health and provision in spirit, soul and body. For know this, questions that lie before you in the path that will set you feet in a ready place and cause you to run and spring forth into victory is always My heart's desire to give you with such a clarity and such a pristine attitude of the heart that there is no guesswork and the fruit of that path justifies and says wisdom is justified of her children. For those of you that choose in these hours, present tense, to follow after and seek My anointing and give yourself wholly to it, know that the very thing that has caused the dismal kind of perception against your spirit and against your mind to be there on a continual basis against your petition of direction, know this that My anointing breaks every yoke. It is My sincere desire, not only present tense to give you wisdom for success but also at the years end you'll look back and see the God of your salvation triumphing in every situation of your life saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah!

(tongues...) So come on and enter in to that anointing that breaks the yoke, for you can not see with natural eyes nor hear with natural ears what the enemy accuses you night and day and stands against your petition. But know this, there is an anointing that breaks every yoke and causes you to run further and faster than you thought possible saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah!

January 7th, 2009

I heard the Lord begin to speak and say these words prophetically. I have a room for all of you to visit. I have a room of all of you to visit as often and as frequently as each person so desires. For some, this room is a familiar room thoroughly furnished by a continual place of visitation and for others, this room is to be furnished by your visitation but to all, this place is the throne room of the Lamb. You will find that this place is free to all and to all who hear My voice I say come. Come to this place. Visit this place in My presence often. For let Me describe to you the furnishings that surround this atmosphere. When you enter into this place it is thoroughly furnished with peace, it is thoroughly embellished with a presence of refreshing and there is no accusation in this room saith the Spirit of Grace, only a refreshing from your Father. The Lamb sits postured and poised and yet the starch of religion has no place in this place. There is no atmosphere of do's and don'ts and yet a refreshing of continual approval from Me saith the Spirit of Grace.

(I am pausing because I am hearing Him say this as I spoke that last line, He spoke that on behalf of the Lamb but the Lamb wants you to know that face to face He is speaking that to you. This is the encounter that you will have with Him in that place.)

For know this as I said saith the Lamb the starch of religion is removed from this place and refreshings are the continual order of the day whether you stay five minutes or five hours the same results will take place, My continual refreshing. Know this, that human effort is dissolved in this place and it is replaced by My strength in you saith the Spirit of Grace. So visit this place, come in, for know that it is a place; it is a place to lounge and be refreshed. Visit this place often and you will be glad that you did saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! Glory be to God!

01-07-09b- (after a time of reflection the Lord continued)

And know this to the entire body for oftentimes when I talk like this and you sit in good conscience oftentimes will wonder what application does this have for me? But know this saith the Spirit of Grace that for you to come where I am asking you to come and for you to do the works of the Father in the days ahead it will depend on My sufficiency in you. Each washing of brings a refreshing. Each washing of your person and of your will and of your soul and of your conscience brings a refreshing in My Spirit saith the Spirit of Grace. So allow Me in these places, so allow Me to come and do not hinder Me. Know this that I will perform these works and I will perform these works at only your asking and only your will. Allow Me these times of refreshing of your spirit and of your conscience, for you will find yourself in a high place and even your body will begin to feel as if weight has lifted off. You will experience what the world calls a high but I am that high place and only in Me are the greatest sensations of spirituality felt and known and understood as truth. Even when you believe and know for sure that there is nothing between you and I allow these washings to come and the refreshings of My spirit will take you higher and higher so that you may be more suitable to be used without hindrance from the enemy for the work of the Father in the days ahead saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! Hallelujah Jesus!

01-07-09 c-

Notice there are tender places in your conscience for very few times do I have the opportunity to calm your day and bring forth the atmosphere of these types of services and so I speak on this wise. Notice that at times there are tender places in your thought patterns and places that almost seem bruised, doors undesirable to enter into by reason of the multiplicity of thoughts that can bring accusation and confusion but know this that is it My utmost desire that in the tenderness and in the peace and in the patience that I am offering in this room saith the Spirit of Grace to visit these places not against your will but to prepare your will and to allow Me the visitation that every room inside of your heart, that every thought process receive the healing salve of the Holy Spirit. For in the nurturing that I have to give saith the Spirit of Grace is all the healing, all the healing of the scripture that when I said that the nations will eat of the leaves of the tree of life that they might be healed, know this that even before that day comes that in this room that eating and receiving and healing is all one. And know that this healing is not forced nor is it mandated, for you can live with these things and live mostly a productive happy life always holding these things at a distance. But know this for the service and for the enjoyment of the communion that I am offering you saith the Spirit of Grace that as you visit this room and as you hold this place in high regards know this that with the ease of a father's tender loving care that I desire to bring health and healing, that no part of your consciousness, that no part of your thought patterns, that no memory of the past or thought for the future would be without the strength and the vitality of My life in it saith the Spirit of Grace. For when I said that I desire to heal and that you might be whole know this that I leave nothing, nothing, nothing without that healing power so within this place are great reservoirs of My strength and My visitation offers this to you on a continual basis saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! (tongues...) For this is a place, this is a place of self deliverance and healing for many doctrines went a strange way and taught about inner healings that I was not apart of or could not be apart of for the forsaking of the foundation of truth. But know this, this place of inner washing and healing is one and the same and know that it is a place that is self imposed for I desire to come and come and come again. Know this that no single visitation will accomplish everything so do not scourge yourself as if to think that there are still things yet to be done for no one visitation will accomplish all. But as you give heed and allow Me line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little and there a little My visitations bring forth an ultimate place of healing and strength saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! Hallelujah Jesus! I Glorify You!

01-07-09 d- (after message was shared on the scourging post)

The Lord said, yes son remind them of this - Know this that is of your Father's utmost intent both to will and to do His good pleasure. For when I said that I force no man to this place and behind that understanding there is no malice on My part, only the understanding is a place that I gently want for all of My children to be brought to by My strength and by My spirit and by the will of My purpose inside of you saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! (tongues...) For know this, that there is a protection under My covering and all those who come in faith to this place before, during and after I will not only work the work of grace inside of you but I will shield you from those things in which the enemy would love to accomplish to detour you and to cause you to say this does not work, I won't do it again, it's not happening. Know this that I will shield you in this place and it will be a place of surety and security and safety saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Hallelujah Jesus!

January 21st, 2009

(I hear Him saying something along this line.)

Have I not said think it not strange the fiery trial that has come to try you as though some strange mysterious thing had come, for did I not say that in the world you will have tribulation? But know this, I have overcome the world saith the Spirit of Grace. So do not count yourself out of touch just because he comes but know this that when he comes I have already received from My Father a remedy for you in the midst of your trail. So the fastest way to escape and the fastest way to live always victorious is rejoice and again I say rejoice saith the Spirit of Grace. Learn this habitual place in the springs of your life, learn it in the summers and in the winters when things are difficult so that the habit is to remain a place of rejoicing so no matter what comes or no matter what goes you are always in a season of refreshing and rejoicing saith the Lord. Hallelujah!

Do not wait if you find yourself now with small problems – Rejoice. If you find yourself in medium problems – Rejoice. And if you find yourself in mega load – Rejoice saith the Spirit of Grace. For know this that at some point you must learn this habitual place so do not wait for the next refreshing time to begin to practice this but no matter what state you find yourself in rejoice and again I say rejoice. Hallelujah! Glory be to God!

January 25th, 2009

...this place of My presence. My glory is in this place and anytime you want to come to this place the door is always open. You can come here at anytime of the day, anytime of the night; don't let anything befall you, not when My presence is so close to you. Just step over and reach in and come on in, into My presence. Everything you could ever need, everything you could ever want and everything you could ever ask for is here in this place in My presence. You could never have any lack if you would stay in My presence, you could never have anything go wrong if you're in My presence. So come and spend more time with Me. I long for you to come into this room with Me. I long for you to come and have intimate fellowship with Me. All I need is your time. All I need is just a few moments. You can not imagine what I can do in just a few moments of your time. I AM the Lord God Almighty and I can do all things and I need just a little time to do it in. So come and be free. Come into this room with Me and let Me be the God that I've told you that I can be. Yes Lord Jesus!

January 28th, 2009

That you'll find this path always, always works itself out in peace. For the defining factor in everything, did I not say that your feet be shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace? For knowing this, that I was not just speaking about your presentation of the gospel but that every part of your life as you go and you come that peace would be the order of the day. So seek this, for My word said that if you will seek peace and pursue it. This is the order of the day for you, to know this peace that passes all understanding and to confirm all things and those who seek diligently they will find it. Those who seek My face in every issue continue therein until that baptism of peace fills your life and confirms My word saith the Spirit of Grace. For often times people affirm I have peace in this matter, I have peace only to find that other areas of their life are in disarray to the measure that it does not confirm the peace that they say they hold but know this that the thread that runs in My body who seek My face is a peace that is a consent, it's a staying power that if you give yourself to it and seek My face and desire to know Me in every issue you will find that the things that you seek to be confirmed will be confirmed by every arena of your life falling under that umbrella of peace saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Hallelujah!