

August 17th, 2007

See to it and understand it, My authority in you is surely growing. This authority interprets to places of change beginning in you but what I am really after is for you to bring forth the change in the earth where you live. So know that with these sacrifices of praise and worship I am well pleased saith the Lord. For in it you will grow closer to Me and I will be able to transfer to you more of My authority for these last days and for the purpose of changing the world that you live in. Know that these are not a light thing in the spirit or to be taken as if just some small thing was happening. This can resound unto great, great moves of My Spirit out on the things that you desire and that you speak. For I desire more than you to change the things that are in your heart that need to be changed but I am looking for something, I am looking for a place that I am finding in this place so pursue Me relentlessly without any stopping point inside your spirit. Pursue Me with everything inside and you will find there is a great reward. And the reward will be that you will see those things come to pass that you speak and I will hasten to perform these things to bring forth encouragement to you saith the Lord. This will be your encouragement that you will speak a matter and confess it before My face and hardly before you leave the premises you will find that the answer has come or hear a report that things have already begun the process of change. So know the more you speak the more I will come. The more say concerning My word the more that I will triumph. I will triumph like a great soldier that runs towards that which you speak saith the Spirit of Grace. For I am looking for a people that will open wide their mouths, that will open wide the gates of glory and give Me the opportunity to rush out and do these things. So little is accomplished that could be already accomplished by My people because they are threatened by the things that they see and whether they realize it or not they stay mute. Their mouths are closed because they stop and will not declare boldly in the face of danger and impending threats, those things which I have the opportunity. But run to these things with My word and speak My word for I will gladly change them and you will be encouraged and the more that you see the more that you will speak and the more that you will speak again I will come and on every wave you will find that My presence gets stronger and stronger on the things that you are confessing to be changed. Hallelujah! Hallelujah! Worship You Jesus!

August 26th, 2007

If you would know this and understand these things then your life will be all the more often consistent with My desire for you to live a triumphant life. When you know this and these things you are not ignorant of his devices. But if you will understand that when My authority in you grows and it must be stopped by the one who contends for your faith know this, that the darkest hour is always before the dawn. And the pressing that he must press and cause and bring the attack against your emotions and against your reasonings and even your choices to debate whether they were right or wrong and knowing that way back you settled all things in peace that you would not be stopped and you would contend for the gold. Know this, that the darkest only proves...when things increase and the darkness is the thing that increases know this that things are not getting worse they are getting better saith the Spirit of Grace. For he in his limited knowledge sees the hour that you will walk free from the very thing that he's held for so long garrisoned up by emotions but know this as the closer you get to the spring day and the morning star rising with healing in His wings...know this one will press in and press in...know if it is darker that it is much lighter, it is lighter on the inside where all permanent change takes place says the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Hallelujah! (tongues...) So hang on, hang on and enjoy the ride for just a little bit more and you will see things that you have not even hoped for or dreamed of I will exceed those things because I took the authority that you gave Me and excelled in that and will bring you to a very, very pleasurable and happy and joyful season of your life saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Hallelujah Jesus!

There is hope, hope for you saith the Spirit of Grace. There is some of you fighting a battle that you don't understand if you will turn and just cry out, call on My name you will find that I will come and meet you right where you are at. Hallelujah! Glory be to God!