

February 5, 2006

(Tongues...) For know this saith the Lamb, that I have a fountain that is filled with blood. This fountain that you found in the beginning of your journey is offered to you as you walk your course. Do not forget the fountain of My Blood. Do not forget that which was offered to you from the beginning is still as I said in My Word, given to you. Whosoever, confesses his sins will be cleansed, saith the Spirit of God. Know that this fountain is never apart from you. No matter how far you have walked this journey or how many years you have continued. Anytime and every time that you need this fountain it is available to you, saith the Spirit of Grace. So come often to this fountain. As often as you need, come to this place of cleansing and place of grace. For I will say unto you as I have said many times, I will never leave you nor forsake you. If you will come unto Me and confess and bring forth the confession of your heart as in repentance, you will find that I will never give up on you, saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Lord! Hallelujah Jesus!

February 8, 2006

(Tongues...) Here what the Spirit of the Lord would say and take it to heart. Know that there is a river that is flowing now. Not in the days ahead. Not in the time of revival. Oh yes, that river will flow then too. Know, saith the Spirit of Grace, there is a river flowing deep and wide from the throne of God. It is a cleansing river. In that cleansing flow know that there is joy. There is peace. There is pleasure forevermore. In the days past, there was an assignment against this house to discourage you and to bring you under foot. Part of the instruction of the enemy was to come and to continually condemn you and continually follow you even into the services and tell you that you were less, than who I have declared that you are, saith the Spirit of Grace. Now is the time to enter in to this river. Today is the day to receive the benefits of what I am offering, says the Spirit of Grace. Know that your Father is not holding anything against you but He desires to bring you into the fellowship of His joy and all the provision He has given you in Christ Jesus. So enter in. This is a thing of freedom and a thing of free will choice, saith the Spirit of Grace. It is entirely up to you. If you will be obedient and say yes to these things, you will find that these are filled and loaded with benefits, saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! Hallelujah!

February 10, 2006

The Lord says these things. He is pleasantly pleased with what you are giving Him and the newness and the freshness that you feel is not the stirring of the flesh but it is the stirring of My Spirit, says the Spirit of Grace. For these things are not of man but they are by My Spirit, these are the things and much, much more that I have desired for a long dry season to give you. Know this is the sword that I have placed in your hands. This is the double-edged sword that I am asking you to wield now. If you will continue in these things, this which you are tasting of will only continue to grow and to manifest itself in your presence, saith the Spirit of Grace. Do not be weary in well doing. Do not faint, for you will reap. This is the season for harvest. This is the season for reaping. This is the time when those things sown in prayer will come to fullness. For great will be your joy. Great will be your joy. Continue in these things and you will find that this kind of presence will only increase. Surely this is not the stirring of the flesh but the stirring whereby My Spirit is bringing you higher and higher.

February 19, 2006

(Tongues...) Why saith the Spirit of Grace, would you wage your war in the natural? When there has been given to you so much in the Spirit, why would you wage in the natural? Know that the weapons of your warfare are not from the natural realm. Those that will wield the sword of the spirit will be wise, for they will be those of the triumphant course. They will sing the songs of victory and boast of great, great things that have happened in the spirit realm. Those who know the difference between the natural and the spiritual and wage their war and run their race and launch the front in the Spirit, these will be those who will take the spoils of victory, saith the Spirit of Grace. For in this day and in this hour, this is the time to arise and awaken out of sleep. Those who understand these things and do them, happy will they be, saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! Hallelujah!

February 26, 2006

(Tongues...) Know this saith the Spirit of Grace, it is through the spirit as you move into My Spirit, that I am able to go and to do and to accomplish. For there is a way surely that seems right unto man but the end of it is the ways of death. But know, this truth applies not only to those that are without but to those that are within, being My church. For if they follow any other way except that which I have prescribed to them, know that they will come to the end and wonder why God? Why God? Know that this is a surefooted journey and there are places prepared in your Father to bring you to oasis and to let you know that surely, surely the Lord is on your side, saith the Spirit of Grace. To let you know that surely the Lord leads you in the way that you go. For many desire to see things in your family change and loved ones come in and things to be born. Know they must be born in this place first then, through this authority. For too many, much of my church waits for things to happen out of a realm that I can not come and attach Myself to. But know that this realm which is of the Spirit, in it I will come and I will show Myself mighty among you, saith the Spirit of Grace. If you will bring forth and institute these things and worship Me and thank Me for the things in which I have said in My word, know that surely you will find that I will bring forth the vindication and the consecration, the kind of thing that says My word is, and it is unto those who believe it a rewarding thing, saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus!