

June 1st, 2007

(Tongues...) I am with each of you as each one of you walks your road to Emmaus and as a friend sticketh closer than a brother I walk beside you, every one of you and all of your paths each day because I am God, because I am your Lord, your Master and also your glorified Christ. I walk down every pathway with each of you and as a friend I commune with you on this level and you receive from Me personally. As you come together and rehearse these things know that I bring the fullness of everything that I am for everyone of you having a part and sharing a part of everything that I have given you become one, all parts coming together to become one in Me says the Lord. For in the days ahead more and more of this will increase. Know that this is limitless. Do not make the mistake that many have made before you for I warn you in advance and so taking heed you will get passed, for I desire to do these things among all. For many in times past have seen Me come to a few and felt selected as if they were an inner circle, know this, that what I do among one or two I desire to do among all saith the Spirit of Grace. So as I lead you down these paths invite everyone inside your circle. Bring everyone that will thirst and hunger, hide nothing from anyone who desires for there is no secret place that I do not desire to come out of and give to all saith the Spirit of God. (Tongues...) For there is no select group in Me for all who desire Me will find the secret chamber of My resting saith the Spirit of Grace. (tongues...) For I have given this to a few to steward and to run ahead but it was not so you could run ahead and lose those that were trailing behind for at times I will cause you to turn around and invite others to come up to the place where you are at and when they are coming, help them along their way. Encourage them and disciple them for I have given you this grace to bring others up to this place as well. And in the days ahead as I have said there will be an increase of intercessors and there will be an increase of those who will steward My Word and My gifts and My anointings and the giving and you are the ones that I have chosen that will bring up these other ones but you will hide nothing from them. For what I teach you in the secret chamber you will bring forth and give away freely, freely says the Spirit of Grace. For in not too many days what is done among the few of you will increase among many dozens and the dozens will turn overnight to hundreds and then the hundreds will multiply into thousands. Oh but know this, you will never be lost in the maze of the multitude or ever feel like you are only a number for I have in this...(tongues...) Jesus...know this that also what is part of this outpouring and always part of the Father's heart in revival is that none lose their individual identity but they feel as special among the thousands as they would have in what they called the core group or the two or the three saith the Spirit of Grace. You will feel just as individual and just as much a priority or brought up among that place of living inside the selection of My Grace, you will feel that atmosphere in the thousands as much as you do here tonight saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! (tongues...) This is what I will build on; My word and My Spirit. And as you disciple one, and two and three and they will multiply themselves many, many times over. You will find this joy. You will find a family atmosphere when there is too many for you to count. You will not just meet in one place, many buildings, many buildings will house this revival for one church will return to the planet and it will be housed in many different cities, many different states, many counties and many countries but you will have your part in this part of the world. Thank You Jesus!

June 3rd, 2007

(Tongues...) Note this, I will change the atmosphere around you and that thing that often times stood you down as a well fixed opponent, know that if you will enter in to this "great grace" saith the Spirit of God, there will not only come on you that which will demolish and bring paralyzing to your enemy but then you will turn around and speak the same words of grace to those who will be looking for an answer in the days ahead. Many answers will be given. Many answers are given now but they are not My answers but in that day and in this hour that is now if you will worship Me for that place more and more of you will see My glory come on you and you will find yourselves at the most unexpected times and in the most unexpected places begin to pour out of your spirit and then only to wake up as it were to say I found myself in the midst of this great testimony and God was using me...who am I to pour out this great grace upon all who are hungry? For surely I am looking for those who are willing and surely I will pour out My Spirit upon all those who are asking saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Jesus we worship You! I exalt You Jesus!

Later in the service...

(Tongues...) Well you have not been measured out...many of you look at a place where you esteem others to but know this, that your story has not had the ending chapter written. For if you would aspire to greatness that is greatness in Me I could write you a chapter or two towards the end of your life that would astound you and the ones that esteem as being spiritual now you will actually run way passed and say I can not believe that I set my sights so low in the past. I could not believe where I am standing at now that my aspirations for God were so low by measuring myself in the order of where somebody else walked. Hallelujah! Glory to God! (tongues...) For come up to a higher place saith the Spirit of Grace and let know man be your measure...let Him Who was the first born, the author of the church be the one Who sets the measure in front of you says the Spirit of Grace. Halleluajah!

June 6th, 2007

For you will find this is your haven of rest, your safest safeguard saith the Spirit of Grace. For nothing else will suffice this place, nor come close to it and when all else and everything has been tried and nothing seems to work, know that My love never, never, never fails says the Spirit of Grace. So baptize yourself in that love and when nothing makes sense know that I will come and refresh your thinking so that you come on a higher level. For the enemy of your soul, that great divider and spoiler, know that he once rebelled against this love and had no part in it and now it has come to him to be his greatest adversary and destruction against all that he knows. For when you dwell in Me and My love dwells in you he will find no avenue of recourse in you says the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus! (tongues...) Is there a place of invincibility as a human being? Oh, have I not said he who dwells in Me and I in him and we together in the Father in that place no man can pluck you out of that place. For there is a safeguard and there is a harbor and there is a place where the enemy can not come and it is in that place of My love saith the Spirit of Grace. So seek earnestly and diligently to know Me in this place of intimacy and you will find that in Me your invincibility against all that he throws at you comes on line and your confidence goes to another level in My Grace. Hallelujah! Hallelujah! Hallelujah! Perfect Love! Jesus!

June 20th, 2007

(Tongues...) Know this, that when you think you are doing little you are doing much. Do not judge your authority by the things or the feelings of the flesh, nor judge your authority by any high time that you have ever enjoyed in Me. For know that I am coming in the days ahead with such like you have not yet seen and in this great seasons of refreshing...great seasons of refreshing. But know that on every level that is contended for I have poured out and given to you My authority that when you speak My word and speak My name in the most mundane situations with no feeling as if to say this is going through, this is happening, know that just the stand alone is more than enough for Me to come and lift you up above your situation saith the Spirit of Grace. (tongues...) For many he has fought on the line of the finances but know that the reservoir is fat and flourishing. What is holding these things back? It's not your enemy for I have given you authority, but take great delight and when you speak and it feels as if your words have rolled back on top of you take the great delight in knowing that you are penetrating those realms of darkness that are taunting and saying that we will not bow our knee to these things that you say but when you say them believe Me and they shall come to pass saith the Spirit of Grace.

(Tongues...) Do not wait for the revival alone to enjoy this kind of faith saith the Lord. For this kind of blatant on the word kind of faith will change things before there is ever a major outpouring. For know that those who passed before you in days that were recorded in history they stood sometimes alone without what you are contending for and affectionately call an outpouring where things will be much easier in that day. Know that before this any one of you that touches Me on the blatancy of My word know that the dead will be raised on your behalf, the blind will see on your behalf. For I am not waiting for a point in time for that which I have promised for any time anyone at any time touches Me on the basis of My word I will perform that which I have said saith the Spirit of Grace. (tongues...) And do not think that these to be...oh you say but these are for those who are walking in a secret place and yes, many of these things will appear and escalate for those who move in but know that for those who stand on the blatancy of My word the reward of My word is this, that I will come and perform it. Even many times before the character is in place by which you think these things must come to pass because I am a God that loves to perform for My people and I love to rescue. Have I not said that I will reign upon the just and the unjust? And I will cause blessings upon the thankful and blessings upon the unthankful for surely anyone who believes Me at any given time, for anything can receive anything that I have promised out of My word. So do not wait for a time in the future for that time is coming but do not short change yourself for now in every single day I have a miracle for those who believe saith the Spirit of Grace. (tongues...) Worthy! Worthy, Worthy, Worthy Jesus!

For the enemy has often cheated you when you where closer than what you thought because he reasoned with you on this line and said those who you respect have not had this kind of miracle. Have I not said that I am no respecter of persons? For surely the fact maybe that in some places they may walk beyond you but that dose not stop Me from coming to you on any line that you believe Me for and rewarding you above even places they have received if you stand and relentlessly call those things that be not as though they were saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Hallelujah Jesus!

June 27th, 2007

(Tongues...) Jesus! He wants you to know the rejoicing that you've come to will soon be magnified many times over. For there is so much more in Me that you have not yet attained that I am with great anticipation as your Lord and Master am ready to bring you in to. For at this level if you rejoice in Me wait till you see what I have waiting for you says the Spirit of Grace. (tongues...) Hallelujah! Thank You Jesus!

For surely your peace will increase in the days ahead and it will have nothing, absolutely nothing to do with your surroundings but your peace will be the catalyst, it will be the absolute that I will use to bring in all that I am wanting to bring in this move... (tongues...) For you will separate yourself from all these things that now have something to do with your life and pulling you down and in those hours you will not even think about the things that you wrestle with now. They will take their flight as wings of an eagle or a dove (I hear Him saying they will take off one way or the other. I see the picture of it. It will be gone how about that?)

(Tongues...) You're are trying this and trying that...stick to what I have taught you. For in these fundamentals you will find that they will prove themselves to bring you into the fullness of everything that I have promised you. For I am asking more of you and more of your day, but I will not leave you at your own ability to come into Me for I will visit you and I will warm up those hours and the times and the seasons so much so that you will not want to separate yourself because it will be glorious seasons saith the Spirit of Grace. (I know why people don't like to pray because it's dry in there but He's promising us a place where He comes and waters it real good.) Hallelujah Jesus!

He keeps reiterating it, and if again in this place you are able to rejoice, wait and see, wait and see how much more the rejoicing will be made complete in the days ahead. Hallelujah Jesus! He has so much more. This is the threshold. Peace is the Threshold. When you meet Him, He is what? He is the Prince of Peace.