

October 10th, 2007

For you may as well rejoice and be glad saith the Spirit of Grace. For the things that have come on you now are not just for a season, for many of you have measured these things and found that they are eternal. For know that the freedom that your spirit is experiencing now is not a temporary fix saith the Spirit of Grace. This is not something that comes or goes for surely there has been a shift in the spirit realm. For in the days ahead these things will be measured in this, that you will find the freedom that many of you have stepped over into is not something as was in yesteryear that you found for a short while came and went and you could not find it again. But know this, that the grace that many of you are finding now is part of the overall authority that I have brought to the church saith the Spirit of the Lord. For in this authority I have found what I need, I've found enough of what I need now to take you past a very tight place that the enemy scheduled was hard for many but know this, because some endured and would not quit many will be the benefactor, many will benefit because of those who would not stop. So rejoice and be glad for something has changed in the spirit and it is not a temporary thing saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! (tongues...)

But you will find that the greatest part of all this is the freedom that you find in your flesh. For you will find that those things that once corralled you and dictated to you how far you would walk in and pressured your emotions at times so you could not seek Me or open My word you will find that at will you'll say I'll do this and sure enough you will find yourself lost I the pages of My word and with hands lifted up and worshipping Me and find that my, my this was not the case of the past but it will be the case of your future saith the Spirit of Grace.

You might as well know this, that many have made this mistake in the past. They've overlooked My miraculous while searching for the spectacular. They have looked for the wind and for the fire as well as My prophet could not know Me by the spectacular but I hid him away and he found Me in a still small voice. Know this, it will not be like blazing guns come out and find that it's as if an explosion takes place and blows your whole world in a different direction, but this is greater than that. You will find from this point on a quiet strength that begins to dictate the concourses of your life saith the Spirit of Grace. For if I came and blew all these things away in a moments time then when they came back to challenge you, you would wonder how did these things go and you would question your own liberty and whether or not you could make them go again. But out of this quiet strength you'll find that as you speak out of that place of peace and say "peace be still" to the storm and you will find that you changed the thing. I want you to understand that the authority is resident within you so that the rest of your life and in the days ahead there will be nothing that you will meet that you will not say, "I can do this, I changed it before I can change it again," saith the Spirit of Grace. (tongues...)

So know this, this is greater than a temporary fix or a temporary high or a one day thing that said I felt so good but then I came down. No, no, no. Know this, that this is stronger than any still that can be placed within your character saith the Spirit of Grace and if you will find yourself looking inward in the moment that the thing that was, that came to challenge you the most and disrupted your thoughts and sent you on a whirlwind in the past if you will look to this grace and say there has been something given, a quietness by His word and His Spirit. You will find in that moment in time that you will be able to say, "Peace be still," saith the Spirit of Grace.

October 28th, 2007

(tongues...)

This is that, for no man has the answer that you are looking for, but I have through man given My scriptures to answer not only the questions but the desires of your heart. So know this saith the Spirit of Grace that in these days if you will take this to heart and find this place, this place that you have felt and known and understood as intimacy in My presence it is a doorway. It is a path that those who pursue Me, those who seek Me shall be filled saith the Spirit of Grace. And on this path you will find that everything is answered not by the sit downs and not by inquisitive conversations of man but it will be given to you by My Spirit saith the Spirit of Grace. For who can answer the intimate questions of your heart that have been pondered for years? Who can come and answer those things except that My Spirit give it unto them? But know this, it has been given to you to know Me face to face saith the Spirit of Grace. Face to face. No man can pray for you and answer these things except My Spirit come and lavish on you the love that I have intended from the very beginning saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah