

December 2nd, 2007

...For even as those first drops of My blood touched the ground I contemplated you saith the Spirit of Grace. For that all would come under one, Me, Christ in you the hope of glory bringing together one body in the earth, the church. So know this, that these drops of blood have not been shed in vain on your behalf. So if you will carry these things past this point you will find that you will not only find Me here but that you'll find Me in the most mundane, superficial parts of your life you'll find that My blood is sufficient saith the Spirit of Grace.

December 5th, 2007

...For many grow weary often in well doing primarily because they do not understand what has been provided for them. For if you would understand the place of authority that has been provided and what I have given you to drink from and to eat from there would never be an occasion by which the weariness that the enemy is trying to bring would overcome the rest which I am always providing saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! (tongues...) For I am more, I am much more than an oasis. For to believe that there are places just to come and drink and then again go back out into the wilderness would not see Me in the light by which I exist. Know this, what I have created for you is a habitation that you could go live in, come and go in and whatever he brought he'd have to come through that habitation to get to you and as long as you stay in the place where I can renew your strength know this that the one who will get weary in his doing will be enemy and he will turn and go another way saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Praise You Jesus! For listening to him is like listening to yourself and you've oftentimes not turned him off like you could a switch on a radio or television because you've accepted his invocations and his counsel because you thought that you were thinking it through, but know that I gave you an inner witness. I gave you an inner witness that overrides even the thoughts of the mind and the imaginations of the heart and you were supposed to monitor all things by the inner witness. So know this, that anything that you contemplate that begins to pull you down and begins to pull you away and causes you to be even more and more self inspecting to where your strength is derived from yourself and not of Me, know this saith the Spirit of Grace it is not coming from Me but it's coming from a counsel of the world. But if you will listen to Me, if you will listen to Me, know that I am One who renews your strength like the eagle says the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah Jesus!

He has something in His heart mainly on you not being able to catch a lot of the time the inner workings of the enemy. Because he integrates his thoughts with a lot of your own thinking and sometimes he'll introduce it right in on the beginning of a trial, he's wanting you to accept a place less than a place of authority over him by examining a lot of the facts and a lot of old hat weaknesses. So God is saying He has given you an inner witness and that's the thing you are supposed to go by, you're not even supposed to go by, the highest order is not your own thinking. The highest order is what is peace telling you? So go get in the word and think right. Hallelujah! I'll even reintroduce scripture to you saith the Spirit of Grace. For when you are renewed in the spirit of your mind and your mind is renewed in the disposition of Me coming and anointing you and you are able to see all things through Me, then are you best qualified for My Spirit to teach you My understanding. For My understanding will come with peace and it will come with authority and know this, that I am always telling you who you are in Me. I am not repeating what he's saying to you. I am repeating to you the things that My word says, that I say you are says the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Glory be to God!

December 19, 2007*

Know this; it is My desire to teach you how to desire to shortcut things that you would labor in of your own. If you will go into Me and find My presence, know that in My presence is fullness of joy saith the Spirit of Grace. And out of My joy comes strength that will enable you to find yourself accomplishing things that beforehand was a task and a labor unto you. For I desire to place great, great overwhelming kinds of joy inside of you so that the things that I will ask of you and require of you is not a task to be looked at as hard and laborious. But know that you're joy will be exceedingly great as you find those places of My presence and I'll come and I'll reign in you and you will walk in this earth as those who are full of strength and I will renew your strength saith the Spirit of Grace.

*(Tongues...) He said, I saw a better year, an improved, an improved...you can talk like this always thinking that you are going to encourage somebody, you could easily do that trying to lift up hope, but this is what His reasoning was. He said because a lot of you have learned some things in the spirit that are going to reap great dividends. (tongues...) Okay Lord. I heard Him say sometimes the enemy places this kind of argument, if I go in higher or go in further and go up higher then what is the enemy's match for that? But know this saith the Spirit of Grace. He said I saw a cup and it was just about full and the rim was waiting for just some more of what you already know and that is continuation and a steadfast stand. *But know this, the enemy is not limitless. I AM limitless. I can not be limited. I go on and on and have I not said and prophesied in the words that were just read that My expanse can not be corralled. I AM limitless but know that your enemy is not. He comes to a place where he can not give anymore, he can not extract anymore over on you. Know that you are inside of Me and if you are inside of Me then your going forward is limitless and after a while you will out run everything that he could throw at you and your anointing will break any yoke that he ever comes with. Know this that your expanse is in Me and if I have expanded and can not be limited, know that the enemy that tries to come he can not in that day and will not be able to match My glory in you saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah!

For surely as your heart is open to Me I will place something in you now and it will be the very seed that I need to cause you to enter in to this next season. For things are measured among earthlings as years, end of years and beginnings but I know them as spiritual seasons for you and this one that is about to break for you will be that which you desire to take you into this next place saith the Spirit of Grace.

December 31, 2007*

That you would expect the great kind of faith, a move of My Spirit for I will come, I will come in this year, with waves of My glory to saturate you time and time again. A common place will be the place where you find the saturation of My presence. Like the prophet saw the cloud the size of a man's hand and knew that the rain was coming, know that you will see these things and you will see them and watch them increase and know that the reign of My presence and the revival that you've asked for is surely coming. Know that it will come in waves. It will come for seasons and one season will give itself over to another one and as you bathe in one you will find that there will be a short intermission and that will only be while I am allowing those things to begin to just saturate you and take up permanency inside of you. And the endowment of everything that every wave in this year brings, receive it because it is preparing you. You will see the cloud when others can't see. When you are looking up and you are seeing things change in the spirit realm. You will begin to see things change outside the walls of the church. Expect the unexpected saith the Spirit of Grace. Watch unusual things in parking lots and in shopping malls and in work places and in casual business conversations. Don't think it strange when I fall in the midst of two or three having a conversation and all of a sudden My compassion falls on you and a weeping comes on you and those around you will not think it's strange although they will not understand it they will be caught up in it as well. For know this, the cloud is surely growing until it will manifest itself mightily in the earth saith the Spirit of Grace.

These things are not based on a calendar date. They are not an appointment only in time but know that the cup of many years of prayer and many seeking times by many who have sought Me in days of old and those who have sought Me in this place and brought these things to pass saith the Spirit of Grace. The foundation is set and now the walls and ceilings and floors and garnishings will be placed, the furnishings will be placed in the midst. Know that other good places where I am able to fellowship with My people will come and receive from you. They will even receive from your doctrine and the things that you have learned as soundness of mind and soundness of word. Things that you will be able to give them, what they need to establish them on their good journey saith the Spirit of Grace. So take joy. Take joy in that which you know and that which you understand, freely you have received, freely you will be able to give in the days ahead saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! Praise You Jesus!

Worship Me for the days that are in this year saith the Spirit of Grace. Unusual appointments of My Spirit, catching aways... (tongues...) If you will learn to yield to Me you will find yourself caught away often times in the spirit only to find yourself coming back and wondering how long was I gone? How long was I missing? I only remember lifting My hands and finding it seemed like I left and I was gone and that an atmosphere engulfed me. Know that it will be those times where I will get the most out of you and I will be able to put the most in you saith the Spirit of Grace. In those times when I take you out of your surroundings and the things that you usually need to feel comfortable in, it's in those times where I will take you to a place where I am able to totally saturate you and download in you all the things that are missing. But they won't be missing after I get done with you but you will find that you come back from those appointed times different and you will not even know why but you will know that you are different saith the Spirit of the Lord. Blessed be the Lamb!

So if there is anything to learn in these days, it is to learn how to be more yielded to My presence. (tongues...) I appreciate your discipline and good intentions of your heart to move forward in better things and that is the things that will produce more of Me in your lives but know this, that if there is anything that you can learn, if there is anything that will set you ahead faster and further it is to yield to My presence and to be able to simply relax in My presence and let Me have My way and get the job done. This will get you further down the road than you can imagine saith the Spirit of Grace. Hallelujah! I worship You Jesus!