

Merry Christmas & the Presidential Election

Dear Friend,

I am writing this intermediate monthly letter to just say Merry Christmas once more, and to give some very specific instructions concerning the presidential election. So please, read the entirety of this short letter.

I am so excited about the reality of this last day harvest of souls that we call Revival! It has been promised in His word, and recently it has been prophesied, that it has already been released from Heaven. Just think! Heaven has scheduled a supernatural outpouring for this planet that is to soon arrive. Sounds like a Christmas present. Ha!

Heaven also prophesied and scheduled the arrival of a baby in a manger over 2,000 years ago. That baby became our Lord and Savior, Jesus the Christ. The promise and the arrival happened just as the Bible said it would. It will also happen the same way for the promised outpouring of His Spirit!! So, Merry Christmas to everyone. Amen!

This morning December 18, 2020, after an extended time of prayer and fellowship with the Lord, I surprisingly received some very specific instructions. The Lord instructed me to write a letter to one of our U.S. Republican senators from Florida in regards to helping President Trump be reinstated as our rightful president. He immediately showed me what to do and how simple it would be.

I will not go into lengthy detail, but many of you may know that on January 6, 2021, both the House and the Senate will meet to certify the elector vote for the presidency of the United States. Vice President Mike Pence will preside over that meeting. If any one House member along with any one senator refuses to accept the elector vote based on suspicions of a fraudulent election, it will send both chambers of Congress into an extended debate. That debate could eventually wind up in a vote by Congress that could overturn the present-tense election results. There is already at least one House member that is planning on contesting the elector vote, and now we need some senators to do the same.

I found the process of sending my senator a message to be very simple. It can be done in less than five minutes. Every state is different, but hopefully yours will be just as simple. I started out by googling the office of one of my state senators. Once I was on his website, it gave me the choice to contact him and send him a message. It then gave me choices of subject, and the one that I chose was "congressional matters." After that, there was some personal contact information to fill out, such as name and address. Once I filled out the contact information, I was then given a space to write him a short letter. Below is the letter that I sent to Florida Senator Rick Scott. I've had the privilege of meeting Senator Scott in the past, but it does not matter if you have never had any contact before with your senator. I can tell you that these types of letters do make a difference. One of the things that Senator Scott was able to convey to us who met with him in the past, was how much hearing from his constituents in the state means to a senator.

Dear Senator Scott,

My name is Gary Flint and I am a lifelong resident of Lee and Collier County, Florida. I have pastored a church here in Immokalee for the last 25 years. I appreciate your service as our former governor and now senator. I have met you a couple of times here in Immokalee in the past. I am asking you, sir, to please do everything you can to stand with our president to be reelected as our rightful president. I'm asking you if necessary to please object to the elector certification on January 6th. As a grandparent of six growing up here in southwest Florida, I do not want to see these children having to grow up in the possibility of a socialist society. I am praying for you, sir, and other senators like you, because I know you are a man of integrity.

Yours truly,
Blessings, Pastor Gary Flint

I can tell you that within minutes after I sent it, I was contacted by his office acknowledging my letter. I'm asking you to prayerfully consider doing the same in your state if you have at least one Republican senator. Your letter only needs to be concise, respectful, and to the point. Something like this is an example:

Dear Senator (name),

I am asking you as a concerned citizen to please stand with our president on January 6, 2021 when Congress meets to certify the elector votes. Please object to the certification based upon the possibilities of a fraudulent election.

Yours truly or respectfully,
(Your name)

To the dear saint that believes we should not get involved with these types of things and just pray, I would say that way of thinking is the very reason why this nation is in the turmoil that it is in presently. Christians need to use their constitutional privileges. I would also remind you that Paul the apostle used his Roman citizenship status on at least a couple of occasions to help him with pressing issues.

Please consider writing your U.S. senator in the next few days.

Obviously our focus is primarily set on the spiritual outpouring of Revival, but just as I heard my dear friend Gary Carpenter say the other day, "If you don't think politics are important, try walking down the streets of China with a Bible in your hand!"

Thank you for your consideration in this matter, and once again, Merry Christmas!

Pastor Bronc
